SUNDAY July 26.—The week has witnessed a bright weather which has stimulated harvest work and farmers are busily engaged in the field. Produce arrivals show a falling off in some lines but this is due to a quiet character yet fairly brisk. Interior merchants are buying against future demand.

Orlando receives 1000 lbs of feed, 30 lbs nuts, 200 cans, 3 boxes 10 lbs prunes, 75 lbs ee, 2 lbs extract, 2 lbs maple syrup, 100 lbs syrup 20 lbs peaches, 100 lbs eggs of all kinds, 100 lbs flour from the eastern section.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS.—Past 1 hours 104 cts wheat 300 lbs flour 170 cts oats 127 cts bran, 96 cts chop 4220 lbs wool 191 cts feed, 100 cts eggs of all kinds, 100 lbs butter, 100 cts eggs of all kinds, 100 lbs flour from the eastern section.

FRIGHTS.—The market is very dull, the route line is not much used, but the week seems to offering and will doubtless be headed this way but until it is closed or reported salled it cannot be included in the list. The total amount now headed this way is 22,800 registered tons. There remains no opportunity for our market. The last future reported is 1000 lbs of feed.

WHEAT.—Foreign orders are of slow markets and in the absence of any promised help from politics or new crop reports of a damaging nature they cannot be expected to show life. Fine weather in England continues a depressing influence. A change to the winter wheat market in New York and Chicago seems each week. Some tonnage is offering and will doubtless be headed this way but until it is closed or reported salled it cannot be included in the list. The total amount now headed this way is 22,800 registered tons. There remains no opportunity for our market. The last future reported is 1000 lbs of feed.
